MESSAGE FROM THE PROVINCIAL

Canon Matthew Talarico

Dear Faithful of St. Cyril and Methodius Oratory,

Thank you for your prayers for Canon Francis Altieri, who has been hospitalized in the intensive care unit since January 9. Canon's condition continues to make great improvements slowly but surely. He no longer needs an oxygen mask but only supplemental oxygen through his nose. At this point, it seems that he may need to remain in the hospital for another couple of weeks. Then, it is likely that Canon will need a time of convalescence in order for his lungs to heal and thus ensure a full recovery. We will keep you updated.

In the meantime, sacramental and spiritual requests can be made by contacting Canon Michael Stein or Canon Matthew Talarico, who will be at Sts. Cyril and Methodius this coming weekend. Practical matters can be related to seminarian, Abbe Paul McKown, who is assisting the Canons.

Canon Altieri and his family members certainly appreciate your prayerful and meaningful support which is of great consolation to them. However, please kindly do not contact either Canon nor his family at this time as they try to focus their time and energy on his recovery together with his doctors. Thank you for allowing them the time, space, and quiet they all need so that Canon can return to his duties at St. Cyril and Methodius for the benefit of your souls which are very dear to him as your spiritual shepherd. Canon is praying for you each day while offering up his sufferings for you in union with the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus.

Faithfully yours in Christ our King,

Canon Matthew Talarico

US Provincial Superior
