INSTITUTE OF CHRIST THE KING SOVEREIGN PRIEST

The Joy of Sharing in God's Generosity

The Fourth Sunday of Lent is traditionally called Laetare Sunday. That name is taken from the first words of today's Introit from the Prophet Isaiah: Laetare Jerusalem: "Rejoice, O Jerusalem, and come together all you who love her. Rejoice with joy you who were in sadness, that you may exult and be filled from her consoling breast."

A few verses later in the passage God tells us, "As a mother comforts her child, so I will comfort you; in Jerusalem you shall find your comfort. You will see and your heart shall exult." It's good to know that God comforts us in the way a loving mother does.

That command to rejoice and the reason for it constitute an important promise of hope for us as we continue our Lenten journey in the state of a desert and our lifetime exile in this valley of tears. God wants us to know the end of the journey. He wants us to grasp that He is with us to strengthen and console us. Even those of us who are mourning, those of us who are sad over problems in the world, in the Church, or within ourselves, God wants us to know that He desires to console us like a loving mother and embolden us like a strong father.

Have a blessed Lent!

Canon Antoine Boucheron

Saint John of Capistrano

March 28 - 6:30 a.m. Mass

It has been said the Christian saints are the world's greatest optimists. Not blind to the existence and consequences of evil, they base their confidence on the power of Christ's redemption. The power of conversion through Christ extends not only to sinful people but also to calamitous events.

Imagine being born in the 14th century. One-third of the population and nearly 40 percent of the clergy were wiped out by the bubonic plague. The Western Schism split the Church with two or three claimants to the Holy See at one time. England and France were at war.

The city-states of Italy were constantly in conflict. No wonder that gloom dominated the spirit of the culture and the times.

John Capistrano was born in 1386. His education was thorough. His talents and success were great. When he was 26 he was made governor of Perugia. Imprisoned after a battle against the Malatestas, he resolved to change his way of life completely. At the age of 30 he entered the Franciscan novitiate and was ordained a priest four years later.

John's preaching attracted great throngs at a time of religious apathy and confusion. He and 12 Franciscan brethren were received in the countries of central Europe as angels of God. They were instrumental in reviving a dying faith and devotion.

The Franciscan Order itself was in turmoil over the interpretation and observance of the Rule of St. Francis. Through John's tireless efforts and his expertise in law, the heretical Fraticelli were suppressed and the "Spirituals" were freed from interference in their stricter observance.

John of Capistrano helped bring about a brief reunion with the Greek and Armenian Churches.

When the Turks captured Constantinople in 1453, John was commissioned to preach a crusade for the defense of Europe. Gaining little response in Bavaria and Austria, he decided to concentrate his efforts in Hungary. He led the army to Belgrade. Under the great General John Hunyadi, they gained an overwhelming victory, and the siege of Belgrade was lifted. Worn out by his superhuman efforts, Capistrano was an easy prey to an infection after the battle. He died on October 23, 1456.
