INSTITUTE OF CHRIST THE KING SOVEREIGN PRIEST

“Behold a dead man was carried out.”

As long as we are in this life, we are in a permanent combat to gain victory before death. Death will, in a moment, take from us the money and other things that we have amassed with so much trouble.

But it cannot take from us the alms we have given and the other works of charity we have performed. These shall be safely stored up for us in heaven by our Lord Himself. Death will strip us of all our possessions; but it cannot take from us the beautiful robe of sanctifying grace. It cannot take from us our prayers, our frequent confessions and Holy Communions, our constant connection with God. These things will remain with us and follow us into eternity.

As we see in the Gospel of today, Jesus is our life: He is our Savior who sympathizes with us in our trials and uses His divine omnipotence to alleviate them. The miracle of the resurrection of the son of the widow of Naim is an expression of the delicacy of Jesus' love for us.

The resurrection of the young man was implored by his mother's tears; let ours be implored every day by our good deeds, by the tears of repentance in our hearts, by our humility and trust!

Canon Antoine Boucheron

St. Januarius

Monday, September 19 - 6:30 a.m. Mass

St. Januarius (d. 305 A.D.), also known as San Gennaro, was the Bishop of Benevento, Italy. Little is known of his early life. He was arrested and imprisoned for his faith while visiting other Christians in jail during the persecution of Roman Emperor Diocletian. Many attempts were made to kill him, but one after another they failed. He was thrown into a fiery furnace, but he came out unscathed. He was then thrown to wild beasts in the amphitheater, but they did not attack. He was finally beheaded, and his blood was collected by Christians and kept in a sealed glass vial for veneration. The vial of blood is still kept today in the Naples cathedral, and it has continually demonstrated miraculous properties for which no scientific explanation has been offered. St. Januarius' blood liquefies and becomes fresh on particular occasions throughout the year, especially his feast day, for which the saint has become famous. This phenomenon has been occurring with regularity for centuries, and is one of the "blood miracles" that is historically well-documented among the relics of certain saints. He is the patron saint of blood banks and the city of Naples, Italy.

Invitation To Missa Alba (White Mass)

Saturday, October 22 - 9:00 a.m. Mass

Perhaps no group of people has been so affected by difficulties in the last few years as the front-line workers in the medical profession. In order to gather members of the medical field (doctors, nurses, pharmacists, nurse's aides, respiratory therapists, etc.) under the patronage of St. Luke, the historic St. Patrick's Oratory in Green Bay will be offering a "White Mass" on Saturday, October 22, at 9:00 a.m.

The tradition of these Masses dates back to the 1930's. The Divine Liturgy will be expressed as a High Mass in the Extraordinary Form with new music composed by Kevin Allen and sung by the St. Patrick's Men's Schola. All are welcome to attend the Mass, but a special invitation is extended to the members of the medical field and their families. A blessing of the hands, with a light lunch follows the Mass.
