ORATORY CLERGY

The Reverend Canon Antoine Boucheron
Rector

INSTITUTE OF CHRIST THE KING SOVEREIGN PRIEST

Be thou opened.

The Church wants to imitate Jesus' action in front of the deaf and dumb man and has adapted, since the earliest times of Christianity, a similar rite in the ceremonies of baptism. The priest puts salt on the tongue of the baptized, touches the ears, the nostrils saying: "Be opened"-- be open to the teaching of the Gospel and speak to witness the God of truth.

We admire the miracle, but more importantly, we benefit from this miracle. Yes, the Catholic is a deaf, a dumb, and a blind man who is healed. The Catholic is a forgiven sinner and he becomes a saint by conforming himself every day more and more to Christ crucified and glorified. He asks God to be in his soul and to make his soul more and more divine.

All can reach this life in grace if we decide to seize it. The obstacle is not God's remoteness but man's laziness or fear because he is limited to human views. From this trial comes the spiritual fight which strengthens the soul.

Can you hear Him?

Have a Blessed Sunday.

Canon Antoine Boucheron

Holy Day of Obligation

“Be it done to me according to thy word”

The words of Mary at the Annunciation are representative of her entire lifetime of obedience to God's will—not just at one moment, but for all of her years on earth. She obeyed God in becoming the mother of His Son, and again in giving Him up to His death on the Cross, and at every other moment of her life.

By virtue of this perfect obedience; this perfect conformity to the will of God, we can say that she shared in His victory over sin and death. In obedience, He allowed Himself to be crucified, but then He rose from the dead and ascended into heaven, body and soul. In similar obedience, she too gave herself over to the will of God, and at the end of her earthly life she was assumed body and soul into heaven to be with her beloved Son—a fitting triumph over suffering and death for the second Eve.

In a certain sense, this feast of Mary's Assumption is our feast also, for the triumph of Jesus Christ and his Blessed Mother over sin and death constitutes our redemption, and teaches us what we must do for our salvation.

Mary had free will just as we do—she could have sinned but never did. So this feast of her glorious Assumption into heaven is tangible proof that we too can be victorious over sin and death—that through the grace of God and the intercession of the Blessed Virgin Mary we can conform our wills to the will of God and spend eternity in their most blessed company.

Happy feast day! Many blessings!

Canon Antoine Boucheron
