Thank You from Canon Todd

Dear Members of Old St. Patrick Oratory,

While over the last several months I have been often away from Old St. Patrick, last month's picnic seemed like a homecoming as well as a departure.

It is with great and profound gratitude that I say goodbye to you all. I was not able to say it personally to everyone, please accept my heartfelt thanks for your kindness and generosity to me over the last two years.

Rest assured of my prayers for you; as I mentioned I no longer have a "flock", but you have now given me a "pack" with the addition of our newest member of the community, Dixie. Thank you in particular for this special gift.

I pray that one day you will be able to enjoy the Retreat Center for some special days of prayerful silence and reconciliation during a retreat here. May God bless you all,

In Christo Rege,

Canon Andrew Todd

Catechism 2023-2024

Dear Growing Family of Old St. Patrick Oratory,

Catechism sign-up sheets remain out for registration. The class schedule will start later in October.

What is an Oblate?

The term "oblate" translates to "offer" in Latin or, in the Benedictine tradition, "one who is offered." St. Benedict, a patron of the Institute of Christ the King, coined the term in the sixth century to refer to permanent members of his monastic community who were not monks but who chose to live according to his rule. Oblates, such as those in the Institute, are clerics and so, unlike lay brothers, through their participation in the sacrament of Holy Orders (although not all the way to the Priesthood), their ordinary life of work and prayer is transformed into a participation in Christ's priestly mission and more specifically in Christ's sacrificial mission.
