Third Sunday After Easter

At that time Jesus said to His disciples: A little while, and now you shall not see Me: and again a little while, and you shall see Me: because I go to the Father. Then some of His disciples said one to another: What is this that He saith to us: A little while, and you shall not see Me; and again a little while, and you shall see Me, and because I go to the Father?

They said therefore: What is this that He saith, A little while? We know not what He speaketh. And Jesus knew that they had a mind to ask Him. And He said to them: Of this do you inquire among yourselves, because I said: A little while, and you shall see Me? Amen, amen, I say to you, that you shall lament and weep, but the world shall rejoice: and you shall be made sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy. A woman, when she is in labour, hath sorrow, because her hour is come; but when she hath brought forth the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world. So also you now indeed have sorrow: but I will see you again and your heart shall rejoice: and your joy no man shall take from you.

Short lesson on Sacred Music

by Christopher Garton-Zavesky

"Sacred music, being an integral part of the liturgy, is directed to the general object of this liturgy, namely, the glory of God and the sanctification and edification of the faithful. It helps to increase the beauty and splendor of the ceremonies of the Church, and since its chief duty is to clothe the liturgical text, which is presented to the understanding of the faithful, with suitable melody, its object is to make that text more efficacious, so that the faithful through this means may be the more roused to devotion, and better disposed to gather to themselves the fruits of grace which from the celebration of the sacred mysteries." Pope Pius X, Tra le sollecitudini (1903)

The choir has sung the following polyphony recently: Sicut Cervus for two voices, by an anonymous composer; Vexilla Regis arranged by our choirmaster, using a 15th century melody called Agincourt; Tomas de Victoria (1548-1611) Unus Ex Discipulis Meis; Francesco Feroci (1673-1750) Dextera Domini; Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina (1525 - 1594) Adoramus te Christe; Antonio Lotti (1667-1740) Regina Caeli
