PRAYERS & INSTRUCTION

WORK AND OUR SUNDAY REST

UNDER the old dispensation (God's covenant with the Israelites of the Old Testament) God laid a very special stress on the observance of the Sabbath; while Israel was in the desert, He ordained by the mouth of Moses that anyone who violated this commandment should incur the penalty of death. We, who live under the new dispensation, must keep the Sunday holy. As a minimum, we do so by our faithful participation at Holy Mass, as well as abstaining from servile work on the Lord's Day.

The Sunday rest is, however, no arbitrary requirement for the working man, but a command of nature. A human being is not capable of incessant exertion, like a mere inanimate machine, and even the latter wears out, if constantly used. Scientists, and even medical men who are destitute of religious beliefs, in addition to purely unchristian governments, have publicly proclaimed their conviction that one day of rest in the week is a necessity; they have unanimously asserted how highly important it is, that Sunday should be generally observed as a day of rest.

And there is, moreover, something beautiful and elevating in the Sunday rest and Sunday celebration. As soon as he awakes on the Lord's Day, the truly Christian workman, laden with workweek long with unrelenting toils to earn his weekly wages, feels that he has been transported into a different milieu. The cheerful peal of the church bells sounds pleasant in his ear. He puts on his Sunday coat instead of his dusty shirt, and repairs to the church with joyful heart, in order there to unite with all his fellow-Christians in the worship of God, his supreme Lord and Master. Great and small, high and low, rich and poor, are on the same footing in the house of God and the meanest workman is conscious that within those walls his dignity as a Christian outweighs marble palaces, high offices of state, kingly titles, and imperial diadems, making them all to appear as tinsel.

Yet does many a man image in his blindness and thirst for gain that Sunday labor is of advantage to him and increases his store of money. How short-sighted! If you, my friend, could reckon up the number of those—if indeed any such could be found—who have become rich through working on Sunday, and also those who, in spite of working on Sunday, or, to speak more correctly, because they worked on Sunday, have come to beggary; then would the mere consideration of worldly advantage restrain you from desecrating the day of the Lord.

My friend, everything without exception depends on God's blessing or at very least His sufferance; the curse of God on the contrary, brings to naught the fairest hopes and wisest calculations. Cannot God send down, in the space of one brief hour, lightning and hail, sickness and death? Does His

-the Raccolta #219

An indulgence of 500 days but an indulgence of 3 years if recited during the month of July.

FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Introuit. Ps. 26, 7-9. Hear, O Lord, my voice with which I have cried to Thee: be Thou my helper, forsake me not, nor do Thou despise me, O God my Savior. Ps. 26, 1. The Lord is my light, and my salvation: whom shall I fear? V. Glory.

Payer. O God, Who hast prepared good things unseen for them that love Thee, pour into our hearts the fervor of Thy love, that, loving Thee in all things and above all things, we may attain Thy promises, which surpass all desire. Through our Lord.

Epistle. 1 Peter 3, 8-15. Dearly beloved, Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, being lovers of the brotherhood, merciful, modest, humble: not rendering evil for evil, nor railing for railing, but contrariwise, blessing: for unto this are you called, that you may inherit a blessing. For he that will love life and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile. Let him decline from evil, and do good; let him seek after peace, and pursue it: because the eyes of the Lord are upon the just, and His ears unto their prayers, but the countenance of the Lord upon them that do evil things. And who is he that can hurt you, if you be zealous of good? But if also you suffer anything for justice' sake, blessed are ye. And be not afraid of their fear, and be not troubled; but sanctify the Lord Christ in your hearts.

Gradual. Ps. 83, 10, 9. Behold, O God our protector, and look on Thy servants. V. O Lord God of hosts, give ear to the prayers of Thy servants.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 20, 1. In Thy strength, O Lord, the king shall joy; and in Thy salvation he shall rejoice exceedingly. Alleluia.

Gospel. Matt. 5, 20-24. At that time, Jesus said to His disciples, except your justice abound more than that of the scribes and pharisees, you shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. You have heard that it was said to them of old, Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgment. But I say to you, that whosoever is angry with his brother, shall be in danger of the judgment; and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council; and whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire. If therefore thou offer thy gift at the altar, and there thou remember that thy brother hath anything against thee, leave there thy offering before the altar, and go first to be reconciled to thy brother; and then coming thou shalt offer thy gift.

Offertory. Ps. 15, 7, 8. I will bless the Lord, Who hath given me understanding; I set God always in my sight; for He is at my right hand, that I be not moved.

Secret. Be propitiated, O Lord, by our supplications, and graciously accept these oblations of Thy servants and Thy handmaidens, that what each has offered to the honor of Thy name may profit for the salvation of all. Through our Lord.

Communion. Ps. 26, 4. One thing I have asked of the Lord, this will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life.

Postcommunion. Grant us, we beseech Thee, O Lord, who Thou hast filled with the heavenly gift, that we be cleansed of our hidden sins and delivered from the snares of our enemies. Through our Lord.

hand not know how to strike the guilty?

A certain judge in his youth had belonged to a society composed of young men who habitually desecrated Sunday, either by work, or excesses of different descriptions. Later in life, however, he had been converted and had amended his ways.

He was, on one occasion, called to pass sentence of death upon a criminal who had been a member of the same society. The judge trembled to think of the danger he had incurred and asked the unfortunate man before him what had become of his associates of former days. "Your Honor," replied the criminal, "except yourself and me, there is not one left alive; all the others have perished on the gallows, or met some form of violent death."

That is but one instance out of very many which proves that, as He formerly did under the old dispensation, God heavily punishes those who violate the Sabbath. Be very careful then, my friend, not to desecrate the Sunday, either by work, or by indulgence in sinful pleasures. Live in accordance with your faith; be a true and loyal Catholic; then will you live a happy life, and die a peaceful death.

Sunday

This day the glorious Trinity
Creation's work began ;
This day the world's Creator rose,
O'ercoming death for man.

So, while on this His holy day,
At this most sacred hour,
Our psalms amid the stillness rise,
May He His blessings shower.

Father of lights! keep us this day
From sinful passions free;
Grant us, in every word, and deed,
And thought, to honor Thee.

Assist us, Purify divine,
Within our hearts to quell
Those evil fires which, cherish'd here,
Augment the flames of hell.

Saviour, of Thy sweet clemency,
Wash Thou our sins away;
Grant us Thy peace - grant us with Thee
Thine own eternal day.
