FROM OUR PASTOR, REV. CANON COMMINS

Education: ex-ducere, to lead forth, to bring out. Education to the spirit of service and dedication is one of the essential pillars of family life since according to the very etymology of the word "education", is implied the idea of leading the child out, leaving his or her comfort zone to serve, to dedicate himself or herself to tasks necessary for the preservation of the common good. It grieves me that some aspects of education seem neglected on our campus when I notice parents exclusively serving and cleaning simple things like trash outside, or toys, or moving chairs and tables, when many of our young children should be asked to help and clean behind them at least with smaller tasks such as picking up plates, Styrofoam cuts, etc., on campus. Thank you then for your watchful vigilance in this regard.
