An explanation of some rites of the Extraordinary Form of the Mass

Benedict XVI in his Motu Proprio (July 2007) encourages all Catholics to acquire a "notable liturgical formation and a deep, personal familiarity with the earlier form of the liturgical celebration". We will then explore the theological, historical, devotional, liturgical, ritualistic, architectural, artistic, linguistic, practical, legalistic, mystical… aspects of the August Sacrifice.

Did you notice the position of the Priest at Consecration? The rubrics (notes written in red in the priest's missal indicating what he must do) states that when saying the words of the consecration - this is my body - this is my blood - words in virtue of which the transubstantiation happens, the priest must bend over the altar, place is elbows on it as he hold the host or the chalice close to his mouth.
The position of the priest then is noticeable from afar!
The reason is that the Liturgy demonstrates or acknowledges the identity of Christ's representation through the Atar, the Priest and the Host> All three, in particular manner (through the consecration of the Altar Stone, the Ordination of the Priest or the Transubstantiation of the Host) represent Christ.
The Priest therefore seems to attempt to express this unity, entering inside the altar, being one with the eucharistic species that he holds in his hands.
The payer Supplices is summarizing again the unity of this three liturgical realities: Altar, Priest and Host are but one: Jesus Christ
