Nativity Scene

Thanks to all who helped with the Creche setting. Beyond the rendering of the past event there is an essential theological message to render present and alive the reality of the past event.

Pope Leo XIV just reminded the world that "to educate people in memory, Christian archaeology is one of its most noble tools for doing so — not in order to take refuge in the past, but consciously to live in the present and work towards an enduring future. Archeology, the science that lies at the threshold between history and faith, matter and Spirit, the ancient and the eternal, makes visible the Word of life, bearing witness that God became flesh, that salvation has left its mark, and that this Mystery has become a historical narrative". Apostolic Letter Dec. 11/12/25
