October 14th

In order to fulfill one of our purposes of being a resource and blessing to the entire community of the diocese, there will be an appreciation day of local religious vocations on October 14 at Overlook Farm.

The target audience for the guest of honor is priests, nuns, and friars in the parishes surrounding St Paul's but parishioners are encouraged to invite 1-2 in the area that have been impactful to you or just could use the encouragement.

The Event will take place at the home of Mark and Leanne Ledoux in Brookfield from 11:30 - 3:30 PM on Monday October 14.

Food will be provided for guests and adults. There will be a general call for dessert/baking experts after the guests of honor have RSVPd with their favorite dessert.

If able, please plan to attend to show our appreciation for those dedicating their lives to serve the Church and us, and as a visible evidence of next generation of faithful Christians following the orthodox faith in the universal Church.

Please send # attending to:

Rector's vacations...

August 31st-September 11th

Dear faithful,

During my vacations, the Holy Mass will continue to be celebrated at St. Paul's Oratory, thanks to the generosity of priests who will make the drive every day for you. Please, make a special effort to attend Mass these days in order that their time and effort does not seem wasted.

Also, during these few days, Abbe Kevin will stay in Warren to take care of the Oratory, guests' priests and faithful.

Be assure that he will have plenty of work, but do not hesitate to bother him with questions and invitations...

God bless you and see you soon.

Canon Dumain

The wisdom of St. Francis de Sales for a troubled world - 7

Worth mentioning is a remarkable spiritual writer, Karl Adam who, in 1924 wrote a book: The Spirit of Catholicism which was immediately praised as a Catholic classic. I believe it never was out of print. But to Dietrich von Hildebrand's profound grief he was told that, shortly after Hitler came to power in 1933, Karl Adam referring to the traditional claim of the Church that grace does not destroy nature, but presupposes it (Gratia supponit naturam), he is supposed to have added the word: NATURAM GERMANICAM. Such aberrations call for tears. How is it possible that such a noble and orthodox thinker can all of sudden, after the ascension of a criminal to the Chancellorship of Germany, seem to endorse his anti-Christian racism? I do not have an answer to that question, but it should be a concern for all "intellectuals", who, possibly because of their reputation and the accolade they keep receiving, suddenly forget that humility is the golden key indispensable when addressing supernatural question or any "sensitive" question for that matter.

Whereas this most unfortunate formulation should grieve us and be rejected, this does not allow us to forget the beauty of the message he has transmitted us in his previous work.

A similar case of the one of Otto von Habsburg, the eldest son of the last the saintly Emperor of Austria. Some ten years again he told a friend of mine who visited him in Rome, that recently he was in Barcelona and upon entering a Church, possibly the Cathedral, he saw "to his great satisfaction" that there were three pictures over the altar: one of the Cross, the second the Star of David, and the third, the Crescent. "This is a hopeful sign for the future" Otto said. Alas, ecumenism easily degenerates into what my husband called "ecumenitis" that is a distorted desire to create a harmony of all religions by viewing each one of them as a segment of the truth: in fact, "we need them all to have the fullness of truth". This is to sacrifice the word of Christ, "I am the truth" on the altar of wishy-washy relativism.
