EIGHTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Introit: Psalm 47: 10, 11. We have received Thy mercy, O God, in the midst of Thy temple; according to Thy name, O God, so also is Thy praise unto the ends of the earth: Thy right hand is full of justice. Ps. 47: 2. Great is the Lord and exceedingly to be praised, in the city of our God, in His holy mountain. Glory be. We have received Thy mercy.

Collect: Ever graciously bestow upon us in abundance, we beseech Thee, O Lord, the spirit of thinking and doing what things are right, that we, who cannot exist without Thee, may have the strength to live in conformity with Thee. Through our Lord.

Epistle: Romans 8: 12-17. Brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh; for if you live according to the flesh, you shall die, but if by the spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live. For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For you have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear, but you have received the spirit of adoption of sons, whereby we cry Abba (Father). For the Spirit Himself giveth testimony to our spirit, that we are the sons of God; and if sons, heirs, also; heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ.

Gradual: Psalm 30: 3. Be Thou unto me a God, a protector, and a place of refuge, to save me. Ps. 70: 1. In Thee, O God, have I hoped: O Lord, let me never be confounded. Alleluia, alleluia. Ps. 47: 2. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised; in the city of our God, in His holy mountain. Alleluia.

Gospel: St. Luke 16: 1-9. At that time, Jesus spoke to His disciples this parable: There was a certain rich man who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods; and he called him, and said to him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship, for now thou canst be steward no longer. And the steward said within himself, What shall I do, because my lord taketh away from me the stewardship? To dig I am not able: to beg I am ashamed. I know what I will do, that when I shall be put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses. Therefore calling together every one of his lord's debtors, he said to the first, How much dost thou owe my lord? But he said, A hundred barrels of oil. And he said to him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly and write fifty. Then he said to another, And how much dost thou owe? Who said, A hundred quarters of wheat. He said to him, Take thy bill, and write eighty. And the lord commended the unjust steward, for as much as he had done wisely; for the children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light. And I say to you, Make unto you friends of the mammon of iniquity, that when you shall fail, they may receive you into everlasting dwellings.

Offertory: Ps. 17: 28, 32. Thou wilt save the humble people, O Lord, and wilt bring down the eyes of the proud; for Who is God but Thee, O Lord?

Secret: Receive, we beseech Thee, O Lord, the gifts which out of Thine own bounty we bring to Thee, that these most holy mysteries may, by the operation of the power of Thy grace, both sanctify us in the conduct of our present lives and lead us unto everlasting joys. Through our Lord.

Communion: Psalm 33: 9. Taste and see that the Lord is sweet: blessed is the man that hopeth in Him.

Postcommunion: Let the heavenly mystery be to us, O Lord, the restoration of soul and body, that, as we perform its worship, we may experience its effect. Through our Lord.

The Brown Scapular of Our Lady of Mount Carmel

On July 16, 1251, the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to a Carmelite friar called Simon, Saint Simon Stock. And giving him the Scapular, She said that all who should wear it will be saved from Eternal Damnation. These are Her words:

"Receive, my Beloved son, this Scapular of thy Order, the Badge of my Confraternity, a Privilege granted to thee and to all Carmelites; whoever dies, clothed with it, will not suffer Eternal Fire."

These are very strong words, which only the Mother of Our Lord would be able to pronounce: to promise that all those who wear the Scapular will not go to hell. And in order to benefit from this promise, one should receive properly the Scapular from a priest, with the proper rite of blessing and imposition. And one should be wearing it at the moment of death (the scapular should be made out of woven wool and should be used around the neck).

But there is still a second promise attached to the Brown Scapular: on March 3, 1322, Pope John XXII issued a document in which he writes that the Blessed Mother appeared to him and said that She would descend from Heaven to Purgatory in order to deliver from there the souls of those who died wearing the Scapular, on the Saturday after their death. This is what we call the "Sabbatine Privilege", which means, the privilege of Saturday, which is a day dedicated to Our Lady in a special way.

But in order to benefit from this promise to be delivered from Purgatory the first Saturday after death, besides wearing the Scapular, one should observe chastity according to one's state in life, and also recite the little office of the Blessed Virgin Mary, or abstain from meat on Wednesdays (it is important to know that this last condition — the recitation of the little Office or abstinence from meat on Wednesdays — can be replaced with another pious work, with the permission of one's confessor).

So the one who wears piously the Scapular will not only be delivered from hell but also from the flames of Purgatory. These are the two great promises of the Scapular. These promises presuppose we live in the grace of God, of course. If someone is in state of sin, we can hope for his conversion through the intercession of Our Blessed Mother.

The Scapular is not a superstition, but a sacramental approved by the Church. It is a sign of salvation which the Mother of the Savior has obtained for us. Why would we not wear this little sign that can call upon us so many graces? The Scapular is a sign of the love of Our Lady towards us, and wearing it is a sign of our love towards Her.

So let us observe the necessary conditions in order to receive what Our Lady has promised, so we may go to heaven, where She will show us the blessed fruit of Her womb, Our Lord Jesus Christ.
