PRAYERS & INSTRUCTION

THE VIRTUE OF FAITH IN PRACTICE

FAITH ought to be the light which envelops not only our moments of prayer but our whole life as well. In prayer we say, "I believe in God, the Father almighty"; but a few minutes afterwards, in the face of some difficult task, a tiresome person, or something which upsets our plans, we forget that these have all been willed and planned by God for our good. We forget that God is our Father, and therefore is more concerned about our welfare than we are ourselves. We forget that God is all-powerful and can help us in every difficulty.

In losing sight of the light of faith, which makes us see everything as dependent upon God and ordered by Him for our good, we lose ourselves in merely human considerations and protests, as if God had nothing to do with our life or had very little place in it. We give way to discouragement as though we had no faith. Yes, we believe in God, the Father Almighty, but we do not believe to the point of seeing His will, or at least His permission, in every circumstance. And yet, until faith becomes such a factor in our life that it makes us see all things in relation to God, and dependent upon Him, we will not be able to say that the light of faith is the guide of our life. It is, of course, but only partially.

How often this true light, which participates in the very light of God, remains hidden under the bushel of a mentality which is still too human, too earthly! Jesus said, "Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick, that it may shine to all that are in the house" (Matt. 5,15). The light of faith was enkindled within us at Baptism; we must hold it aloft, above all our thoughts and reasonings, so that it may illumine our whole life, our whole house, that is, the interior dwelling of our soul and the exterior world in which we live, with all its persons, places, and things.

One who lives by faith can repeat the beautiful words of Sr. Elizabeth of the Trinity: "Everything that happens is a message to me of God's great love for my soul." To attain this living and profound gaze of faith, we must accustom ourselves, in our relations with creatures, to pass over secondary causes in order to reach the first cause, God, who by His Providence rules and orders everything for His own holy ends. Since we know and believe that He who directs all things is our Father, we will entrust ourselves to His direction with absolute confidence, Cont'd on back

SECOND SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT. Ps. 17, 19-20. The Lord became my protector, and He brought me forth into a large place: He saved me, because He was well pleased with me. Ps. I will love Thee, O Lord my strength: the Lord is my firmament, and my refuge, and my deliverer. V. Glory be to the Father.

PRAYER. Grant, O Lord, that we may have a perpetual fear and love of Thy holy name; for Thou never failest to direct and govern by Thy grace, those whom Thou bringest up in the steadfastness of Thy love. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE. 1 Jn. 3, 13-18. Dearly beloved, wonder not if the world hate you. We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not, abideth in death. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and you know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in himself. In this we have known the charity of God, because He hath laid down His life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren. He that hath the substance of this world, and shall see his brother in need, and shall shut up his bowels from him, how doth the charity of God abide in him? My little children, let us not love in word nor in tongue, but in deed and in truth and in Him, are all things: to Him be glory for ever. Amen.

GRADUAL. Ps. 119, 1-2. Alleluia, alleluia. V. O Lord, my God, in Thee have I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me. Alleluia.

ALLELUIA, ALLELUIA, V. Blessed art Thou, O Lord God of our fathers, and worthy of praise for ever. Alleluia.

GOSPEL. Luke 14, 16-24. At that time, Jesus spoke to the Pharisees this parable: A certain man made a great supper, and invited many. And he sent his servant, at the hour of supper, to say to them that were invited, that they should come, for now all things are ready. And they began all at once to make excuse. The first said to him: I have bought a farm, and must needs go out, and see it; I pray thee hold me excused. And another said: I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to try them; I pray thee hold me excused. And another said: I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come. And the servant returning, told these things to his lord. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant: Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the feeble, and the blind and the lame. And the servant said: Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room. And the lord said to the servant: Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled. But I say unto you, that none of these men that were invited shall taste of my supper.

OFFERTORY. Ps. 6, 5. Turn to me, O Lord, and deliver my soul, O save me for Thy mercy's sake.

SECRET. May this sacrifice to be offered in Thy name, O Lord, cleanse us from sin, that by its virtue our daily life on earth may become likened unto that of heaven. Through our Lord.

COMMUNION. Ps. 12, 6. I will sing to the Lord, Who giveth me good things: and I will sing to the name of the Lord the most high.

POSTCOMMUNION. Having received Thy sacred gifts, O Lord, vouchsafe that the more often we frequent these divine mysteries, the more surely they may avail to our salvation. Through our Lord.

and thus we will remain serene even in adversity, strong in the conviction that He can make use of evil, of man's errors, and even of sins and malice for the good of the elect. "To them that love God, all things work together unto good!" (Rom. 8,28). The gaze of faith is most comprehensive and real, because it takes into account the total reality of creatures and events, considering them not only in their material entity, but also in relation to their dependence on God. The more we know how to look at everything in this light, so much the more closely will we approach the eternal thought and infinite wisdom of God, judging everything according to God's infallible truth. With this view of faith it will be easier for us to accept the painful situations and hardships of life, for we will be able to see in them God's paternal hand ordering everything for our sanctification. If, judging things from a human point of view, we are tempted to protest, to bring forward our own reasons and our rights, to rebel against treatment which in itself is unjust, we should raise our eyes to God, and consider that He permits all this for the exercise of virtue and to spur us on to sanctity. Then we would find the strength to accept everything peacefully, and to maintain a kindly attitude toward those who make us suffer. But at the same time, we should remember that faith is a light that is obscure to our intellect, and therefore, it very often asks us to believe in God's wise, loving guidance, even when we do not understand and are inclined to think that everything is going wrong. This is precisely what constitutes the true life of faith, and "the just man liveth by faith" (Rom. 1,17).
