PRAYERS & INSTRUCTION

St. Francis de Sales, as a secondary patron of the Institute. It would be good to review or be introduced to the spirituality and works of this great Doctor of the Universal Church.

THE following is a list of the principal works of the holy doctor:

(1) Controversies - Leaflets which the zealous missionary scattered among the inhabitants of le Chablais (near Geneva, France) in the beginning, when these people did not venture to come and hear him preach. They form a complete proof of the Catholic faith. In the first part, the author defends the authority of the Church, and in the second and third parts, the rules of faith, which were not observed by the heretical ministers. The primacy of St. Peter is amply vindicated.

(2) Defense of the Standard of the Cross - A demonstration of the virtue of the True Cross, of the crucifix, the sign of the Cross, and lastly the veneration of the Cross.

(3) Introduction to the Devout Life - A work intended to lead "Philothea" (the soul living in the world) into the paths of devotion, that is to say, true and solid piety. Everyone should strive to become pious, and "it is an error, it is even a heresy," to hold that piety is incompatible with any state of life. In the first part the author helps the soul to free itself from all inclination to, or affection for, sin; in the second, he teaches it how to be united to God by prayer and the sacraments; in the third, he exercises it in the practice of virtue; in the fourth, he strengthens it against temptation; in the fifth, he teaches it how to form its resolutions and to persevere. The Introduction, which is a masterpiece of psychology practical morality, and common sense, was translated into nearly every language even in the lifetime of the author, and it has since gone through innumerable editions.

(4) Treatise on the Love of God - An authoritative work which reflects perfectly the mind and heart of St. Francis de Sales as a great genius and a great saint. It contains 12 books. The first four give us a history, or rather explain the theory, of Divine love, its birth in the soul, its growth, its perfection, and its decay and annihilation; the fifth book shows that this love is twofold - the love of complacency and the love of benevolence; the sixth and seventh treat of affective love, which is practiced in prayer; Cont'd next page the eighth and ninth deal with effective love, that is, conformity to the will of God, and submission to His good pleasure. The last three books resume what has preceded and teach how to apply practically the lessons taught therein.

(5) Spiritual Conferences - Familiar conversations on the religious virtues addressed to the Visitation Sisters and collected by them. We find in them that practical common sense, keenness of perception and delicacy of feeling which were characteristic of the kind-hearted and energetic Saint.

(6) Sermons - These are divided into two classes: those composed before his consecration as bishop, and which he himself wrote out in full; and the discourses he delivered as bishop, of which, as a rule, only outlines or synopses have been preserved. Some of the latter, however, were taken down in extensor by his hearers. Pius IX, in his Bull proclaiming St. Francis, Doctor of the Church, calls the Saint "the master and restorer of sacred eloquence." He is one of those who at the beginning of the 17th century, foreshadowed and prepared the way for the future great sacred orators. He speaks simply, naturally, and from his heart. To speak well we need only to love well, was his maxim.

(7) Letters - Mostly letters of direction, in which the minister of God effaces himself and teaches the soul to listen to God, the only true director. The advice given is suited to all the circumstances and necessities of life and to all persons of good will. While trying to efface his own personality in these letters, the saint makes himself known to us and unconsciously reveals to us the treasures of his soul.

"The writings of Francis de Sales, filled with celestial doctrine, are a bright light in the Church, pointing out to souls an easy and safe way to arrive at the perfection of a Christian life." (Breviarium Romanum, 29 Jan, lect. VI)

There are two elements in the spiritual life: first, a struggle against our lower nature; second union of our wills with God; in other words, penance and love. St. Francis de Sales looks chiefly to love. Not that he neglects penance, which is absolutely necessary, but he wishes it to be practiced from a motive of love. He requires mortification of the senses, but he relies first on mortification of the mind, the will, and the heart. This interior mortification he requires to be unceasing and always accompanied by love. The end to be realized is a life of loving, simple, generous, and constant fidelity to the will of God, which is nothing else than our present duty. The model proposed is Christ, whom we must ever keep before our eyes. "You will study His countenance, and perform your actions as He did." (Intro., pt.II, ch.I) The practical means of arriving at this perfection are: remembrance of the presence of God, filial prayer, a right intention in all our actions, and frequent recourse to God by pious and confiding ejaculatory prayers and aspirations.

FEAST OF ST. FRANCIS DE SALES

~ Comm. of the Fourth Sunday after Epiphany ~

Introuit. In the midst of the church the Lord opened his mouth: and filled him with the spirit of wisdom and understanding: He clothed him with a robe of glory.

Payer. O God, Who for the saving of souls didst will that blessed Francis, Thy Confessor and Bishop, should become all things to all men, be pleased to grant that we, being filled with the sweetness of Thy love, guided by his teachings, and helped by his merits and prayers, may attain the joys of everlasting life. Through our Lord.

Payer II. O God, Who knowest us to be set in the midst of dangers so great that, by reason of the frailty of our nature, we cannot always withstand; grant to us health of mind and body, that being helped by Thee, we may overcome the things which we suffer for our sins. Through our Lord..

Epistle. 2 Tim. 4, 1-8. Dearly beloved, I charge thee before God and Jesus Christ, Who shall judge the living and the dead, by His coming, and His kingdom. Preach the word: be instant in season, out of season: reprove, entreat, rebuke in all patience, and doctrine. For there shall be a time, when they will not endure sound doctrine; but according to their own desires they will heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears, and will indeed turn away their hearing from the truth, but will be turned unto fables. But be thou vigilant, labor in all things, do the work of an evangelist, fulfil thy ministry. Be sober. For I am even now ready to be sacrificed; and the time of my dissolution is at hand. I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the Faith. As to rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord the just judge will render to me in that day; and not only to me, but to them also that love his coming.

Gradual. Ps. 36, 30, 31. The mouth of the just shall meditate wisdom, and his tongue shall speak judgment. V. The law of his God is in his heart; and his steps shall not be supplanted.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Eccclus. 45, 9. the Lord loved him, and adorned him: He clothed him with a robe of glory. Alleluia.

Gospel. Matt. 5, 13-19. At that time, Jesus said to His disciples, You are the salt of the earth; but if the salt lose its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is good for nothing any more, but to be cast out, and to be trodden on by men.

You are the light of the world. A city seated on a mountain can not be hid. Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick, that it may shine to all that are in the house; so let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father Who is in heaven. Do not think that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil. For, amen I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall not pass of the law till all be fulfilled. He therefore that shall break one of these least commandments, and shall so teach men, shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but he that shall do and teach, he shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

Offertory. Ps. 91,13. The just shall flourish like the palm-tree: he shall grow up like the cedar of Libanus.

Secret. May the loving prayers of Francis, Thy bishop, not be wanting to us, O Lord, to commend our gifts and ever to obtain pardon for us. Through our Lord.

Secret II. Grant, we beseech Thee, almighty God, that the oblation of this sacrifice may ever purify and protect our frailty from all evil. Through our Lord.

Communion. Luke 12,42. A faithful and wise steward, whom the Lord set over his family; to give them their measure of wheat in due season.

Postcommunion. That Thy sacrifices may give us health, O Lord, may blessed Francis, Thy bishop and illustrious doctor, we beseech Thee act as our intercessor. Through our Lord.

Postcommunion II. May Thy gifts, O God, detach us from earthly pleasures, and ever strengthen us with heavenly refreshment. Through our Lord.

Last Gospel. Matt. 8, 23-27. At that time, when Jesus entered into the boat, His disciples followed Him: and behold a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the boat was covered with waves, but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him and awaked Him, saying: Lord, save us, we perish. And Jesus saith to them: Why are you fearful, O ye of little faith? Then rising up, He commanded the winds and the sea, and there came a great calm. But the men wondered, saying: What manner of man is this, for the winds and the sea obey him?
