FROM THE DESK OF THE RECTOR

Very dear faithful,

On this Sunday, we commemorate the Nativity of Our Blessed Mother Mary. Today's Sunday Epistle and Gospel point out to us that God is ever ready to provide us with His graces if we ask humbly, and cooperate with them to do His Will. Nothing but a sincere and humble request to God will obtain the graces we most ardently need in our lives.

No human being would know more about the graces of God than Our Lady. The theologians are unanimous in teaching that she was prepared for her mission to be the Mother of God by large amounts of graces. In fact, they say that at her birth she already had more graces than all the other saints put together had at the end of their lives. And she only grew in graces from birth.

Moreover, destined to be the Mother of the Redeemer, she was destined to be our mediatrix. It is through her intercession that we receive the graces that we do.

Along with all these sanctifying graces, Our Lady had the full and perfect use of her faculty of reason, from the beginning she was endowed with eternal truths, the beauty of virtue, and above all the infinite goodness of God. In prayerful union, Canon Sequeira

I have heard rumblings that there are plans to bring catered food into our post-Missam gatherings on Sunday.

Let me remind you that this should not be so. These gatherings are meant to be entirely informal and a time of conviviality with the least work possible - at best coffee and some finger foods.

NOVENA PRAYER TO OUR LADY OF GUADALUPE

O Virgin Mother of God, we fly to your protection and beg your intercession against the darkness and sin which ever more envelop the world and menace the Church. Your Son, Our Lord Jesus Christ, gave you to us as our mother as He died on the Cross for our salvation. So too, in 1531, when darkness and sin beset us, He sent you, as Our Lady of Guadalupe, on Tepeyac to lead us to Him Who alone is our light and our salvation.

Through your apparitions on Tepeyac and your abiding presence with us on the miraculous mantle of your messenger, Saint Juan Diego, millions of souls converted to faith in your Divine Son. Through this novena and our consecration to you, we humbly implore your intercession for our daily conversion of life to Him and the conversion of millions more who do not yet believe in Him. In our homes and in our nation, lead us to Him Who alone wins the victory over sin and darkness in us and in the world.

Unite our hearts to your Immaculate Heart so that they may find their true and lasting home in the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus. Ever guide us along the pilgrimage of life to our eternal home with Him. So may our hearts, one with yours, always trust in God's promise of salvation, in His never-failing mercy toward all who turn to Him with a humble and contrite heart. Through this novena and our consecration to you, O Virgin of Guadalupe, lead all souls in America and throughout the world to your Divine Son in Whose name we pray. Amen.

WISDOM OF ST. FRANCIS DE SALES

We must fear God through love, not love Him through fear.

A wise silence is preferable to uncharitable truth.

Certain small temptations are very useful, because they make us examine our conscience and recall our baseness; so then we turn to God with renewed devotion.

Whenever you feel temptation or despair, turn to the mother of mercy for help.

As far as possible, maintain an even temper of heart and spirit in all the events of your life. This is a great perfection and very pleasing to God.

There are many who want me to tell them of techniques and methods and secret ways of attaining perfection. Yet I can only tell them that the sole secret is love of God, and the only method of acquiring love is by loving.

Our Savior has left to His Church the Sacrament of Penance or Confession, so that by means of it we may be washed clean of our iniquities every time we are guilty. Never allow your heart, then, to remain a slave so long, since there is a much simple and easy remedy close at hand.

WHAT IS INFALLIBILITY?

Article by Canon Francis J. Ripley, a priest of the Archdiocese of Liverpool. Source: Catholic Answers

If you really want to know what the infallibility of the pope means you should go to the source, the definition by the ecumenical council of the Church at the Vatican on July 18, 1870. Here it is: “It is a divinely revealed dogma that the Roman Pontiff, when he speaks ex cathedra—that is, when, acting in the office of shepherd and teacher of all Christians, he defines by virtue of his supreme apostolic authority, doctrine, concerning faith or morals, to be held by the universal Church—possesses through the divine assistance promised to him in the person of St. Peter the infallibility with which the divine Redeemer willed his Church to be endowed in defining doctrines concerning faith or morals, and that definitions of the Roman Pontiff are therefore irreformable because of their nature, and not because of the agreement of the Church.”

Note what a limited gift this is. Infallibility simply guarantees that the teachings of the united Catholic episcopate and the definitions of the pope are free from error. God’s revelation is safeguarded. Human minds can work on it, discuss it, study it, explain it, draw conclusions from it, and still not destroy it. That is what matters most. God’s truth must be preserved. In studying that truth the human mind has abounding scope for its activity. But infallibility is there all the time to keep the truth untarnished. It is God’s wonderful device for reconciling the fallible activity of our minds and the infallible truth of the revelation he has made.

It is important to understand the conditions which must be fulfilled before the pope speaks infallibly. They should be studied carefully in the definition of the Vatican I. Once they are realized it is easy enough to see that if a pope, in his private teaching, for example, or in a letter to a bishop or group of bishops, or under any circumstances when not all the conditions for infallibility are fulfilled, teaches error, he may even be condemned as a heretic.

A case in point is that of Pope Honorius (625-638), who was condemned as a heretic by the sixth ecumenical council in 680 for having, in a letter to Sergius, Patriarch of Constantinople, smoothed over heretical teaching and failed to give a dogmatic decision.

Much money has been spent by various Protestant bodies in the attempt to find even one formal papal definition which has been proved wrong or to find where one pope, attempting to teach infallibly, contradicted another or an ecumenical council. The records have been diligently searched by brilliant minds. Nothing has been overlooked; not one minor detail has been ignored. The result has been the complete vindication of the Church and the pope.

From what has been written it will be evident that the personal character of the pope is quite irrelevant to his infallibility. God uses his preventive power over him, whether he be a saint like Pius X or a sinner like Alexander VI.

It should be evident, too, that infallibility is in no way opposed to legitimate human freedom. Quite the opposite. The purpose of infallibility is to safeguard the truth and thus to safeguard freedom. After all, said Christ, “The truth shall make you free.” (John 8: 32).
