FROM THE VICE-RECTOR, CANON JEAN-BAPTISTE COMMINS

As we approach the feast of Our Lady of Mercy, let us unite our prayers and sacrifices to deliver souls from the power of evil. Our prayers can become the ransom that will shed our Lady's blue mantel over the world.

Finding their power crushed in Spain, and in the east checked by the Latin kingdom of Jerusalem, the Saracens, in the twelfth century, became wholesale pirates, and scoured the seas to obtain slaves for the African markets. Is not the spiritual good thence arising a sufficient reason for the permission of temporal ills? Without this permission, Heaven would have for ever lacked a portion of its beauty. When, in 1696, Innocent XII extended this feast to the whole Church, he afforded the world an opportunity of expressing its gratitude by a testimony as universal as the benefit received. Differing from the Order of holy Trinity, the Order of Mercy was founded as in were in the very face of the Moors. It was called the royal, military, and religious Order of our Lady of Mercy for the ransom of captives. The clerics were charged with the celebration of the Divine Office in the commandaries; the knights guarded the coasts, and undertook the perilous enterprise of ransoming Christian captives. St. Peter Nolasco was the first Commander or Grand Master of the Order; when his relics were discovered, he was found armed with sword and cuirass. Dom Gueranger, the Liturgical Year.

MASSES

The Past and the Future ALL TIED TOGETHER NOW

Time is a precious gift from God. We learn from the past, and we work for the future. However, we always have to treasure the present, which connects the two and makes us mindful of eternity.

This week, we completed the very complicated job of tying in the new interior cast-iron downspouts to the new inlaid copper gutters, connecting the past work on the roof with the work to be done now inside the church's dry and enclosed building shell.

We were faced with many challenges the past few weeks in finishing this very important step, but with patience and good people, the Shrine of Christ the King is now ready to be built for the future.

Connecting the treasure of our past with our hope for the future is always a challenge, but that's what makes it worth doing together.

Thank you for your offerings and sacrifices to help us build the Shrine of Christ the King!
